If for any reason, National Advertising Network, Inc. and the International Classified Media Association is unable to publish your advertisement, National Advertising Network, Inc. and the selling publication will be pleased to refund the purchase price of your advertisement. If such an event occurs, the liability of the National Advertising Network, Inc. and its member publications is limited to the price you paid for the ad and any refund requests must be received within 60 days of the printing of your advertisement. No circulation guarantee is provided. Further, the advertiser acknowledges that once they purchase a NANI ad from a NANI selling member, they cannot purchase NANI advertising from any other NANI selling member until such time as the advertiser has not been advertising through the NANI program for a period of one year. Further, the advertiser acknowledges and agrees that any dispute arising from purchasing advertising in the NANI program will be governed by Colorado law and that a competent court located in Colorado shall be the only proper venue for resolution of such disputes.
